WAVENEY today launched Community Television Network. Plasma screens have been installed in a variety of venues around Waveney. The Partnership are now broadcasting community safety information directly into the heart of the community.

Chief Superintendent Martin Jelley, Eastern Area Commander for Suffolk Constabulary said:

“Waveney Partnership TV will ensure that all partners, both statutory and voluntary, have an opportunity to showcase their key initiatives and provide information relevant to local people. The strength of partnership working in Waveney has meant we have been able to get this innovative scheme up and running in a relatively short period of time. We are confident this will prove to be a very useful system.”

Waveney Community TV is now broadcasting useful local information, including community safety messages, national news, weather & sport, emergency messages and crime reduction initiatives to help combat crime and reduce the fear of crime within the area. The screen venues throughout Waveney include Morrison's Supermarket, Tesco, Lowestoft College, Waveney Sports & Leisure, Oulton Village Medical Centre, Godfrey's Department Store, Asda, Adventure Island Play Park, Chadds Department Store and Andaman Surgery

CCN supplies partnerships with dedicated, managed television networks throughout their districts. These networks showcase the partnerships' achievements, results and the positive changes taking place within their communities. By broadcasting updateable, informative video and emergency messages, the system enables the partnerships to communicate, engage, consult and provide reassurance to both the general public and the business sector.
